BOARD OF TRUSTEES

DAN ANDERSON

Economist

EDUCATION

Blackburn College, BA in Mathematics, Economics, 1974

Arizona State University, MS in Economics, 1976

Harvard University, Certificate in Management Systems, 1979

PROFESSIONAL LIFE

Dan was director of institutional analysis for the Arizona Board of Regents (ABOR) for 16 years where he provided support for new and ongoing research, particularly in the data-intensive area of academic and student affairs, until April 13, 2018. In conjunction with Arizona's public universities, he coordinated data development for the board as well as for federal and state governments. Principal tasks included strategic planning, reports on workforce development, economic updates, impact analysis, and internal management information systems as well as other initiatives that required comprehensive data. He has served the state of Arizona at ABOR and at the Arizona Department of Economic Security (DES). Dan served as an economist, research administrator, director, and supervisor for more than 43 years. At DES he and his staff produced and analyzed economic and demographic data for 27 years. Monthly and annual estimates as well as projections of the population, jobs, unemployment, earnings, and industry trends were their area of expertise.

AWARDS / RECOGNITION

Who's Who Lifetime Achievement Award for Research ▪ Who's Who in the West ▪ Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges ▪ Omicron Delta Epsilon, Honor Society in Economics ▪ Member, Arizona Finance Advisory Committee ▪ Member, Arizona Economic Roundtable ▪ Technical Advisor, Citizens Fiscal Review Commission ▪ Member, National Association of Business Economists

PERSONAL LIFE

Dan attended Blackburn College from 1970-1974 where he met his wife, Jane Stricklin. Following graduation they got married and moved to Arizona.

Initially, I chose Blackburn for its small size and its low price. But once there, it was through the Work Program and the liberal arts curriculum that I gained self-confidence, a stronger work ethic, and a better view of my future. Blackburn taught me to be a leader as well as a member of a team—skills that benefit me everyday

BOARD OF TRUSTEES

LISA BLACK-GOMEZ, Board Vice Chair
Educational Consultant

EDUCATION

Blackburn College, BA in Speech Communication, Spanish, 1981

Northern Illinois University, MEd in Secondary Education and Spanish, 1987
and EdD in Curriculum, Instruction, and Education Leadership, 2002

National Lewis University, Post doctoral work in bilingual/ESL education, 2008

PROFESSIONAL LIFE

After graduating from Blackburn, Lisa joined the Peace Corps and served for two years in Paraguay, South America. It was there that she met and married her husband, Paraguayan national Cesar Gomez, and where she started her career in education. In Paraguay Lisa was a rural educator, focusing on children and women's health, education, and nutrition, and adult literacy.

Lisa has served as a high school teacher, dean, assistant principal, principal, central office director of programming, and assistant superintendent. She has taught both undergrad and graduate level courses as an adjunct professor at the University of San Juan (Argentina), Elmhurst College (Illinois), and National Louis University (Illinois). Her work and research has focused primarily on second language acquisition, and she has presented at state, national, and international conferences.

AWARDS / RECOGNITION

In 1991, Lisa was named Illinois Young Foreign Language Teacher of the Year ■ In 1992, she received a Fulbright Scholarship to Argentina, where she taught at the University of San Juan.

PERSONAL LIFE

After thirty-eight years in education, Lisa retired in 2019. She continues to consult with school districts and enjoys spending more time with her husband, two adult children, and three beautiful granddaughters. Lisa and Cesar reside in Winfield, a western suburb of Chicago.

I came to Blackburn because of its size and affordability. I stayed because of the many opportunities to get involved while receiving an excellent education that prepared me for multiple graduate degrees and a very successful career. I have now returned to help support Blackburn because I believe wholeheartedly in its vision

SALINA N. BROWN, Alumni Board Representative
Specialist in Cytotechnology, SCT (ASCP)cm

EDUCATION

Blackburn College, BBA in Biology with a Leadership Minor, 2003

Jewish Hospital College of Nursing and Allied Health, Certificate in Cytotechnology, 2004

PROFESSIONAL LIFE

After graduating from Blackburn, Salina completed her certificate in Cytotechnology in May of 2004 before moving to Rockford, IL, to work at SwedishAmerican Hospital. She worked as a fulltime Cytotechnologist for 12 years at SwedishAmerican. While employed there, she obtained her Specialist in Cytotechnology certification in March 2012. Salina then moved to Springfield, IL, where she worked at Memorial Medical Center for 4 years before becoming a Travel Cytotechnologist. Salina and her husband traveled for 2 ½ years before she accepted a full-time position at OSF St. Francis Medical Center of Peoria, IL, in December 2022. She looks forward to working many more years beyond the 20 she has already completed in her field.

AWARDS / RECOGNITION

In 2004, Salina received the Jewish Hospital College Clinical Excellence in Cytotechnology Award ■ The same year, she was The ASCP National Student Honor Award recipient

PERSONAL LIFE

In August 2017 Salina met her husband, Aaron, in Springfield, IL. They were married in August 2020 during Covid restrictions and plan on having a full second wedding party in a few years. Currently they reside in Metamora, IL, in the house that they purchased in March 2023. Both Salina and Aaron enjoy spending time with their two adopted cats and watching the wildlife outside their back door. They also keep busy visiting family all over the state of Illinois, including a total of 10 nieces and nephews. Salina and Aaron look forward to attending more music events and to making friends in a new location while settling into their new home.

As the first in my family to attend a four-year college, I was excited to receive a scholarship to Blackburn covering half my tuition each year. The opportunities I had at Blackburn far exceeded my expectations. I entered the school as an individual, but left as part of a lifelong family that I am excited now to come back to and to serve

PERSONAL LIFE

David is married to Leigh Anne Lynch Dorris and has four children: David N. Dorris (deceased), Amelia Buragas, Daniel V. Dorris, and Stephanie Dorris. David and his daughter Amelia are the only father/child duo to serve as editors of the Illinois Bar Journal.

Born deep in Illinois' Little Egypt, I attended a rural school with no modern conveniences. My eventual success in life could never have been predicted, but I owe it all to Blackburn College. Now I need to give back to the school so it can thrive and continue to provide its deserving students with the benefits I was so fortunate to receive

JIM FAUST

Retired Cable Television Industry Executive

EDUCATION

Blackburn College, , BA in Economics, 1964

University of Illinois, Champaign, MA in Labor Economics, 1966

PROFESSIONAL LIFE

Jim began a successful career in the cable television industry in 1977 when he founded and served as president of Zenith Cable Products. He continued in several executive positions within the General Instrument Corporation and Arris Corporation. Beginning in 1999, he became involved with VC-backed companies in cable television technology. He was CEO of Evolve products which developed smart TV remote controls for cable. He also served as CEO of Clearband which delivered television content to broadband connected PC's. Finally, Jim was CEO of Optinel, which was a manufacturer of optical devices for cable television. He continues to provide consulting services to the cable industry.

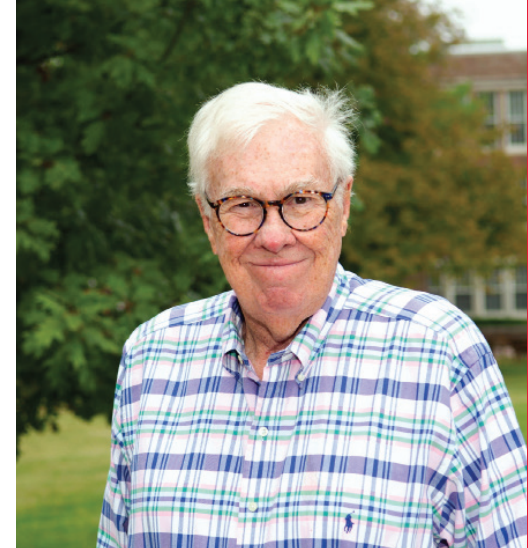

For five years throughout his career, Jim commuted to California. Jim has served on three public company boards. He has served as village of Golf trustee and condo board president, a job he suggests no one ever agree to.

AWARDS / RECOGNITION

Inducted into Cable TV Pioneers in 2018

PERSONAL LIFE

Jim has been married to his wife Helen since 1969. They have three children: Kristen, Erika, and Stephen.

Blackburn put me on a path that allowed me and my family to give back to Blackburn by endowing a Professorship in Education in my sister Sonja's name. Sonja also graduated from Blackburn and was a dedicated teacher

BOARD OF TRUSTEES

FRAN GOODMAN

Real Estate Broker

EDUCATION

Blackburn College, Summa Cum Laude, BA in Economics, Business Administration, 1993

PROFESSIONAL LIFE

Fran has been a real estate broker since 1997. She and her husband, Roger, owned Goodman Agency until their third daughter, Gretchen, purchased the business.

PERSONAL LIFE

Fran is the mother of four daughters and has 8 grandchildren and 4 great-grandchildren. She enjoys being a member of the Board of Trustees at Blackburn College and was recently voted a member of her church council at the United Church of Christ.

I was in my late 30s when I came to Blackburn. From the start the students, teachers, and staff treated me as though I were any other student. Blackburn taught me more than was in the books. It taught me how to manage my time and how to put things in the proper perspective—skills I still use today. I love Blackburn!

BOARD OF TRUSTEES

JENNIFER HAMILTON

Retired Educator

EDUCATION

Blackburn College, BA in Elementary Education, 1970

SIU, Edwardsville, MS in Education, 1977

PROFESSIONAL LIFE

In the fall of 1970 Jennifer was employed as a second grade teacher for Carlinville Unit School District #1 and retired in 2003. During that time she taught kindergarten through fourth grade. After retiring from elementary teaching, she worked at Blackburn as an adjunct professor, supervising student teachers and teaching Children's Literature. As of 2012 she is fully retired. As a Blackburn alum, she served on the alumni board from 2003 – 2012 and as their representative to the Board of Trustees from 2004-2012. She was a member of the 175th Anniversary Committee and assisted Ann Reichmann with the 175th Anniversary book. Jennifer served two terms on the Carlinville Public Schools Foundation Board of Directors, the last two years as president. She now serves on the Board of Trustees for that Foundation. Professionally she is a lifetime member of the National Education Association, Illinois Education Association, and the Carlinville Retired Teachers Association.

AWARDS / RECOGNITION

The Blackburn College Distinguished Teacher Award in 1983 ■ The Teacher of the Year Award from the Carlinville School District in 1993

PERSONAL LIFE

Jennifer met and married Don (class of 1969) while at Blackburn. Their family includes two daughters and sons-in-law and five grandchildren. Spending time with family is a top priority. Having fun with her grandchildren, reading, traveling, playing golf and bridge, and participating in Summer Repertory Theater activities are some of the ways she enjoys her retirement. She is a member of the Carlinville Methodist Church.

I came here because it was a small liberal arts college with a Work Program, and it exceeded all expectations. I graduated with minimal debt and interpersonal skills that prepared me for life after college. Blackburn provided strong academic programs in a safe community with opportunities to participate in sports, clubs, and organizations, and to form long-lasting friendships

BOARD OF TRUSTEES

THOMAS HEINZ

Retired Visual Journalist/Graphic Designer for The Chicago Tribune

EDUCATION

Blackburn College, BA in Art Education, 1970

American Academy of Art, AA in Illustration, Advertising, 1974

University of Illinois/Chicago, MFA in Graphic Design, 2011

PROFESSIONAL LIFE

During his senior year at Blackburn, Tom served on the Work Committee as Dining Hall Head. After graduating with high honors he taught middle school art in Wheaton, IL, for one semester before being drafted into the Army. After serving his two years, he moved to Chicago to attend the American Academy of Art where he studied commercial art. Three days after completing those studies Tom was hired by the Chicago Tribune to help bring a more creative and modern look to the stodgy newspaper. During a 34-year career at the Tribune, Tom became a key member on the staff of graphic journalists that helped make the Tribune one of the best designed newspapers in America. He managed the design staff for a period of time and always served as a mentor for new hires. He retired from the Tribune in 2008 but returned to school to obtain an MFA degree in Graphic Design. Today he has his own design company, Thomas P Heinz Design.

AWARDS / RECOGNITION

During his years at the Chicago Tribune, Tom received multiple awards from the Society of News Design for his Illustration and design work ■ Tom was twice the recipient of the Tribune's Award for Outstanding Professional Performance

PERSONAL LIFE

Tom grew up in Carlinville. He met his wife Michele at Blackburn (Class of 1972), and they celebrated their 50th anniversary in 2022. They live in Hinsdale, IL. They have two adult children and four granddaughters. Tom volunteers at the Forest Preserve District of DuPage County at the Mayslake Peabody Estate as a docent. He also sings with The Sounds Good Choir, a national group of over-55 singers that performs 3 concerts a year in the Chicago area. Tom also enjoys gardening, reading, and traveling with his wife and their friends

After a semester at a too-large school, I returned home to attend Blackburn until I decided where to go next. And I never left. Its size allowed me to truly feel part of campus, the Work Program taught me how to work alongside my peers, and the student/faculty ratio made it possible to really know my professors—and vice versa

RAYMOND R. KENNELLY

Higher Education Executive

EDUCATION

Blackburn College, BA in Psychology, 1982

Miami University, MS in College Student Personnel Services, 1988

Madonna's husband, Jeffrey A. Tideman, has extensive experience in commercial real estate business in the Chicago Metropolitan area. In 1986, Madonna and Jeff joined forces to form The Tideman Company based in Northfield, IL, providing real estate services to institutional and private investors.

Madonna is an active member of the Chicago North Shore community serving in several service and volunteer positions including Sunset Ridge School District Board of Education, New Trier Parent Teacher Organization, Northfield Township Human Services Commission, and The Auxiliary of North Shore University Health Systems. Madonna also serves on the Macoupin County Blackburn Scholarship Committee.

PERSONAL LIFE

Madonna and Jeff split their time between their North Shore home and their farm in Harvard, IL. They are the parents of two children. Sam and his wife Samantha have three daughters and live in Northfield, IL. Their daughter Madeline is currently living in Berlin, Germany.

I came to Blackburn because it was affordable; I stayed because I loved it. The opportunities at Blackburn provided me with life skills and leadership experience far beyond any economic benefit. I made many deep friendships that I still value today. It's important to me that we keep this unique institution strong for future generations.
